

On the 4th of July the TU Delft and the National Coordinator for appointments in International Organizations (NCIF) are organizing an outreach day for and with the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA), the Comprehensive Test-Ban Treaty Organization (CTBTO), the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW) and the European Organization for Nuclear Research (CERN). The goal of this day is to inform interested PhD students, junior- and mid-career professionals and get them excited about these organizations. Since IAEA, CTBTO and OPCW are international organizations, the main language of the day will be English.

During the plenary opening at TU Delft the organizations will shortly tell what they do. After this young Dutch professionals who recently started working at an international organization will give a presentation. The rest of the day will be filled with break-out sessions. During these sessions the organizations will talk about their own organization and how the procedures work to get hired. Next to these sessions, there is also room for masterclasses surrounding different topics such as professionalizing a resume. There is also the possibility for 1:1 conversations with the organizations.

If you want to participate in this outreach event, you can sign up by sending an email to ncif@minbuza.nl. There is a preference for Dutch participants. When you sign up, please also attach your resume in English. If you send your resume you give us permission to share your resume with the attending organizations. The deadline for application is June 21th.

We hope to see you on the 4th of July!
